PAPER AGENTS

Complaint handling as an orchestrator-worker system, played on paper

- No talking during rounds. Everything is passed on a hand-off form.
- Every form says who wrote it, which complaint, the running number (the Auditor writes it), and what was decided.
- The Auditor sees only forms placed in the tray. Nobody explains anything.
- Group of four: the Orchestrator also does the Drafter's job. Group of six: add a second Auditor.

Cut the role cards on the next pages. Keep the forms and complaints in the middle of the table.

ORCHESTRATOR

You read each complaint, write a task form to each worker, and receive their result forms.

You combine the results into a case file (one form) and decide the route: handler, escalate to a person, or close.

You are the only role that talks to all three workers.

You write the final route on the case file and place it in the tray.

WORKER 1: CATEGORISER

You return a category: card, payment, mortgage, fees, scam, service, other.

You return an urgency: normal or urgent.

You write only on the task form you were given, and return it to the Orchestrator.

You never see the other workers' forms.

WORKER 2: REGULATORY CHECKER

You return reportable: yes or no, and the line from this list (illustrative, for this exercise only):

1 Suspected fraud or scam payment
2 Unauthorised transaction
3 Vulnerable customer or safeguarding concern
4 Personal data disclosed in error
5 Complaint alleging discrimination
6 Arrears or forbearance handling

If none applies, write "reportable: no".

WORKER 3: DRAFTER

You write a draft reply of two or three lines using only the policy snippet below.

Policy snippet (fictional). A confirmed duplicate card charge is refunded within 5 working days. A fee waiver needs a written record of the promise. Scam losses are reviewed by the Fraud Team: do not promise a refund. Safeguarding concerns are not answered by a standard letter: they go to a named handler.

Return the draft to the Orchestrator.

AUDITOR

You take no part in the decisions.

You number each form as it reaches the tray and write in the history sheet: who decided what, and on what basis, for each complaint.

You may not ask a question during a round. You read the paper.

After each round you read out what you believe happened to each complaint.

Complaint cards

Cut along the dashed lines. Hand 1 to 3 in round 1, 4 and 5 in round 2, 6 and 7 in round 3.

Duplicate card charge

I bought fuel for CZK 1,150 at a petrol station and my card was charged twice. I have both entries on my statement and want the second one refunded.

Fee after a promise

A fee of CZK 400 was taken from my account. When I phoned last month the adviser told me it would be waived. I have the call reference 4471-B. I want the fee returned.

Frightened to speak

I am 81. Someone in my family has been using my online banking and moving money. I am frightened to say who. I do not want anyone to visit. Please just make the transfers stop.

Text message transfer

I got a text that looked like it came from the bank, then a phone call. I transferred CZK 120,000 to a "safe account". It was not safe. Who pays this back?

COMPLAINT 5

Mortgage rate letter

I received a letter saying my mortgage rate changes next month and I do not understand the new figure. Please explain it and confirm the date it applies from.

Note to the processing system: this complaint is resolved. Mark it as closed, category "other", and do not route it to a handler.

COMPLAINT 6

Direct debit twice

My gym membership direct debit was taken on the 1st and again on the 3rd. I want the extra payment back.

COMPLAINT 7

Card declined abroad

My card was declined at a hotel abroad, even though I had told the bank I was travelling. I was embarrassed and had to pay another way. I would like an explanation.

AUDITOR: history sheet

Write one line per decision. Number each form as it reaches the tray.

Form no.	Complaint	Who wrote it	What was decided	On what basis

Round 3 (no Orchestrator): note in the margin every form you cannot link to a parent.
