- 1. Ring every number an on-call person would want at 02:00. Cross out what only an auditor would want (6 min).
- 2. Write one alert on the next page, with a first action. An alert with no first action is a notification.

ACTIVITY 7

Your alert

Form: If [measure] is [limit], then page [whom], and the first thing they check is [x]. You may write one page rule and one morning notification.

Marking the six nights

Swap alerts with another pair. Do not explain. Using only the alert you were given, mark each night on your own and in silence: page, notify in the morning or nothing. Then compare with your partner and count how many of the six you agreed on.
